

Cohen Shield

In 2018 Scouting is celebrating the Centenary of Rovers. Rover Scouts began in 1918 and they have remained active ever since. Rovers enjoy many activities such as hiking, skiing, camping, racing cars, going on crazy adventures and traveling around the world. In this year's Cohen Shield we'll be exploring some of the skills required to be successful in Rovers and on the many activities they undertake. Did you know that Rovers run their own section? They have no leaders to tell them what to do, they come up with the ideas on their own and get to do all kinds of amazing things.

Originally there was only Cubs, Scouts and Rovers; no Joeys or Venturers.

Rovers was started to provide a way for Scouts who were too old for the Scout section to continue to develop themselves and their skills to allow them to be responsible members of society.
